Ashoka (Saraca Indica), Lodhra (Symplocococcus racemosa) - was found exerting stimulant effect on endometrium & ovaries due to its active principles tannis, catechols & flavonoid principles & regulates excessive hemorrhagic conditions i.e. cyclic & acyclic bleeding.¹

Kusum (Carthamus Tinctorius) - due to its calophyllide content it reduces the increasing permeability in capillaries & toned up the endometrial vascularity, thus checks excessive bleeding.²

Jiwanti (Dendrobium Macraei), Nagarmotha (Cyperus Rontundus) - it is considered as a female tonic & is used to treat irregular menstruation & dysmenorrhoea.

Indications:

*Premenstrual syndrome (PMS)

*Dysfunctional uterine bleeding (DUB)

*Metrorrhagia / Menorrhagia / Dysmenorrhoea

*Non-specific leucorrhoea

*Menopausal syndrome
